These figures are for guideline purposes only, actual productivity levels could be ± 15%.

Motor options, ground conditions i.e. homogenous, layered or fractured, whether trenching or tunnelling, operator skill level, etc can all influence productivity rates.